

Four Classification Schemes for Adult Motivation

2006

Title: Four classification schemes of adult motivation: Current views and measures

Author: John E. Barbuto, Jr, PhD

Journal: Perceptual and Motor Skills, 102: 563-575

Supported by the Technical Committee on Energy

Abstract: Classification of perspectives on motivation and recommendations for measurement are provided. Motivation is classified into four broad categories: content process decision making, and sustained effort theories. Recommendations on measurement are developed for each classification scheme.